DAVISON DEFENDS FARM OFFICIALS McWhorter Will Act as Marshal On Memorial Day

Were Not to Blame for Escape of Abe Powers,
According to Judge R.
E. Davison.

Officials of the state prison farm at Milledgeville were not to blame for the escape Friday of Abe Powers, convicted gambler, and one of the leaders in the operations of the bunco game in this city for several years, according to Judge R. E. Davison, chairman of the state prison commission, who has been in Milledgeville investigating the escape of the prisoner, and who returned to Atlanta Tuesday evening.

"I went into the matter thoroughly," said the chairman, "and I am satisfied Powers received no inside aid. Warden J. E. Smith and his subordinate officials at the farm are in no way to be censured for the escape. They are given a clean slate."

Warden Smith was in Atlanta Tuesday, and it is understood that he has several clues which may lead to an early capture of Powers. He stated that a nation-wide net had been set for the gambler, and that in his opinion he will be apprehended soon.

Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, who returned to Atlanta Tuesday from New York and other eastern cities, stated that until he has received a complete account of the escape of Powers, he could take no action and would have no further statement to make on the matter until then.

Judge Davison will probably place his report in the hands of the governor during the day.

nesses have had it thrust upon them.

Playing Would Have Helped.

It seems a pity that the committee were not thoughtful enough Tuesday afternoon to have H. G. Wood, the musician who testified to play something for us, in as far as has been confessed, he is the only musician yet to take the stand. He did not state what sort of instrument or instruments he played.

Herbert Clay, by the way, whistled away the tedious waiting for Judge Hines and Dr. Grant by practicing a few rolls with the bones which in some way he found their way to the press table. Be it said for the attorney that he is not in mid-season form with the cubes, though he did show signs of having at one time known something.

Several ladies in the audience Tuesday afternoon had themselves served a buffet luncheon. It is still contended that this business of eating cookies in the council chamber will evolve into the "bunco tea."

McWhorter Will Act as Marshal On Memorial Day

The Ladies' Memorial association has designated Fonville McWhorter to act as marshal of the day at the Memorial day parade to be held on April 26. He has already assumed charge, and is engaged in making a program to govern the events of the day.

The following staff was announced in the first order issued by McWhorter: Trammel, Scott, Basil Stockbridge, Rufus Barnett, Homer Thompson, Clark Howell, Jr., James Harrison, Oley E. Mitchell, Eugene Oberdorfer, Saunders Jones, Hill Freeman, Charlie Cox, T. C. Davidson, George Killian, Dana Vetter, John Sloan, H. Y. McCord, Jr., James Freeman, Kirk Smith, Vernon McMillan, James Bankston, Roy Dorsey, Charlie Thompson, Thomas A. Thrash, W. E. Persons and T. H. Hart.

The uniform will be the same as that worn in service.

The American Legion will participate in the parade and ceremonies, and the following circular has been issued by Stephens Mitchell, adjutant of the Atlanta post, No. 1, Army.

All members of the American Legion of Atlanta are urged to make preparations to participate in the Memorial day parade, April 26. It is not necessary to remind the members of the city of the importance of this day. All ex-soldiers are urged to join legion members in making the parade a great and solemn tribute to the dead.

PAN-AMERICANISM

skeptical in some quarters that it ever would be enforced in an emergency.

"The history of the generations since that doctrine was proclaimed," he continued, "has been a history of never intended selfishly; that we had no dream of exploitation. On the other side, the history of the last decade certainly must have convinced us that we stand willing to fight if necessary, to protect these continents, these sturdy young democracies, from oppression and tyranny."

The address follows in part:

"The history of the generations since that doctrine was proclaimed," he continued, "has been a history of never intended selfishly; that we had no dream of exploitation. On the other side, the history of the last decade certainly must have convinced us that we stand willing to fight if necessary, to protect these continents, these sturdy young democracies, from oppression and tyranny."

"I wish April 19 might have added significance from this day on. Similarly born and dedicated to new freedom, I would like this date to mark and dedicate to the South American not alone the avowal of mutual trust in the fellowship of freedom, but also an abiding place of confidence and a new mutuality of purpose in achieving the things which independence and fellowship so naturally inspire. It is an interesting thing to compare the careers of the two great fathers of American liberty, Bolivar and Washington. Each wrought an empire, and each built a nation. Each was not dreamed. Their concept of liberty was not in the least material unrest. Each was wealthy, each rated among the personally fortunate, but a people's freedom was in their hearts."

"It is not too much to say that out of the liberations wrought by Washington and Bolivar grew the republican constitutional system which is America's great landmark."

Barren Boast.

"Liberty without security would be a barren boast, and inspiration without civilization would be a challenge every claim of democracy. Nothing the Americans can do, nothing the Pan-American movement can do, will surpass the contribution of our youth and resources and our steadfast allegiance to our newer institutions to help steady the world and prove the right of present-day civilization to go on."

"We have had our contentions, international and civil; but on the whole the tendency under our republican institutions has been toward establishment of those means of conciliation, arbitration, and judicial determination by which the menace of war is lessened. No American state succumbed to the temptation of that militaristic system which laid ever increasing burdens upon nations elsewhere, and which at last brought them to crisis in the great war. There is too little realization of the progress that has been made toward judicial and arbitral settlement of international differences by the American nations."

"With all humility, but in all sincerity and earnestness, I feel that we Americans, north and south, are entitled to hold that our democracy has come as a light into the world of international relations, and that it will show us a way out of the world's present troubles into a day when mankind may know peace and plenty and happiness, and when the first duty of organized society may be to promote the welfare of its members rather than to array itself in power against the threat of its destruction."

Monroe Doctrine.

"The doctrine proclaimed under Monroe, which ever since has been jealously guarded as a fundamental of our own republic, maintained that these continents should not again be regarded as fields for the colonial enterprises of a world powers. There have been times when the meaning of Monroeism was misunderstood by some, perverted by others and made the subject of distortion, propaganda by those who saw in it an obstacle to the realization of their own ambitions."

"The Monroe doctrine of the generations since that doctrine was proclaimed has proved that we never intended it selfishly; that we had no dream of exploitation. On the other side, the history of the last decade certainly must have convinced us that we stand willing to fight, if necessary, to protect these continents, these sturdy young democracies, from oppression and tyranny."

"If we could consult our Washington and our Bolivar today, and if they could advise us out of their wisdom and experience, they would tell us to go forward in firm confidence that ours is the right course."

"Our thoughts are mainly of the Americas today. They cluster about this statue of the great Bolivar, and the good omen it brings as the gift of a nation, which utters its gratitude to him, to another nation which has ever revered him, and joins Venezuela in one time and perpetuating the mark of free men."

Generous Americanism.

"But we must also have a thought of all mankind. The world is torn and harassed, and Pan-Americanism means sympathetic and generous Americanism. The world needs the utmost of production of restoration, of relief, of peace, of confidence, of all that we can contribute to it. Our greatest service lies in the use of our riches and confidence, and we may inspire others with confidence."

"The world needs, in order that its economic balance may be redressed, peace, enterprise, industry, frugality and commercial development."

"We need to know each other better; to understand institutions and peoples and methods more accurately; to develop the playing of our own and commercial possibilities of our own countries; to encourage the larger exchange of ideas and the most sympathetic appreciation of our riches and confidence, and we may inspire others with confidence."

to you today," the president barely whispered. "But I just want you to know that if there is anything I can do to set aglow a flame in the soul that is denied the light, God helping me, I mean to do it. I would like to make all America realize what this great work means, and to do its utmost to help those who understand my voice, how deeply I want to bring you some light in your hearts, and I wish for you all the joy, that you can find, in compensation for the loss of the great light. I wish every success for the great campaign you have before you."

The president, who was accompanied by Mrs. Harding and several friends, then was rushed to the Pennsylvania station, and boarded his special train for the return trip to Washington.

MINERS WILL GET NEW PAY OFFERS

Owners Form Proposal Increasing Scale After Premier's Statement in British Coal Strike.

London, April 19.—The mine-owners late tonight completed proposals which it was believed may go some way towards the settlement of the coal strike. This was the outcome of a conference held at the board of trade between the owners and governments, where a revision of their previous offer to the miners was fully considered. Chief among the new proposals are:

Establishment of a national wage board; second, the application of national principles to wages in each district, based on the financial condition of the industry in the respective districts. To turn over as wages to the workers, in addition to these rates, the whole of the surplus revenue available in each district during the existing abnormal period. To confer with the workers' representatives with a view to dealing with the wages of the lower paid men.

A distinctly favorable atmosphere regarding a settlement of the conflict has developed as the result of an address made yesterday before the house of commons by Mr. Lloyd George. The prime minister declined to alter his position in opposing a national pool of profits but he likewise stood firm against attacking the rights of the unions.

Food kitchens may be established in the congested districts of England.

to relieve the acute distress brought about by the fuel and food famine, which is daily growing more serious. The cabinet has under consideration a system of hot-food depots to be established by the government wherever the necessity is apparent. Board of trade officials declared to the United News that the fuel situation is the most critical in the history of the nation. Additional restrictions on the use of coal are imperative, and probably will go into effect within the next few days.

Not the newest wrinkle

THERE'S nothing new about Piedmonts. They're old-timers. Sure. But somehow or other these "new-fangled" cigarettes don't taste as good as Piedmonts.

They haven't the character, nor the lively, appetizing flavor that Virginia tobacco gives to Piedmonts.

There never was a tobacco quite so good for cigarettes as Virginia. And that's why Piedmonts haven't changed.

OPPOSENTS ADMIT PACT WILL PASS

Dorothea's Romance Chapter XIV. The End of the Visit

In spite of my coaxing, Dorothea says she must go home tomorrow. "My family thinks I've forsaken them," she insists. "I've been here so long. But oh, Anne, I've had such a marvelous time. I do just hate to go. And I'll miss you all so much!"

I simply cannot understand it. Just when we thought everything was turning out so beautifully for Dorothea and Jimmy, Dorothea picks up and leaves! "Could they have had a quarrel?" I wondered. But I'm sure not—for they both seemed so happy up at the cabin.

Time will tell, I suppose. Perhaps we were wrong in imagining that Dorothea and Jimmy were anything but just good friends. But I must admit I'm disappointed. I had hoped—but then I'm just an old misguided matchmaker, I guess.

Silently, I helped Dorothea pack. "Shall I put this in?" I questioned, as I picked up her bottle of Magnolia Balm. "Indeed not," she said laughing. "I still have one more engagement with Jimmy and since it's my last, I must look my very best. And I never could, without Magnolia Balm." Magnolia Balm is the wonderful liquid powder Dorothea uses. It's a powder and lotion combined, which keeps the skin soft and white and clear. Dorothea's complexion is simply wonderful. It's never tanned nor freckled nor chapped—and she never has any blackheads. All of which she lays to Magnolia Balm. Magnolia Balm comes in pink, white, brunette and rose-red—at five a bottle. At most any of the drug stores, or direct from the Lyon Mfg. Co. (45 S. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.).

So she still has one more engagement with Jimmy. Surely then, it can't be any quarrel with him, that is making her go. But I don't know—I just give it up!

for the most part, tonight's conceded defeat in their efforts to bring about the rejection of the $25,000,000 pact. Fails taken by advocates of ratification were said to show that approximately forty republicans and thirty democrats would vote in favor of the treaty. This would be a half dozen more than the necessary two-thirds.

Discussion of the treaty, which has occupied the senate to the exclusion of practically all else since congress convened eight days ago, will close at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon under an agreement. Then will come votes on amendments, the first of which were offered today by Senator Ransdell, democrat, Louisiana, and the final vote.

The Ransdell Amendments. The Ransdell amendments, as put before the senate, provide for a $30,000,000 payment to Colombia for the loss of Panama. Instead of the $25,000,000 payment contemplated by the treaty; for the loan of $25,000,000 to Colombia by the United States; for cession by Colombia of the Providence, St. Andrews and contiguous islands to the United States; Administration lead the principal Non-Conformist churches in Great Britain.

The American civil war, said the prime minister, provides an exact parallel to the situation in Ireland today. He referred to Lincoln's rejection of true or compromise in the present crisis and to the British government's attitude in the present crisis as being similar to Lincoln's in order to preserve the empire.

The churchmen had protested against the government's course in Ireland, which, they said, exposed Great Britain to "misunderstanding and hostile criticism." The premier, in his reply, referred to the new Irish home-rule bill as a possible solution of the whole difficulty.

Believe our idea of combining unity with home rule is a finer and nobler idea than excessive nationalism, which is the cause of the present situation—which is the Sinn Féin creed, and which, if it had full play, would bankrupt the world, said the premier.

COTTON SESSION DRAFTS TENTATIVE PLAN FOR SALES

Oklahoma City, April 19.—Representatives of six other cotton producing states, meeting here with the executive committee of the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' association in executive session, drafted a tentative sales plan to create delegates said, uniformity of sales in all states selling by the co-operative method. The final form of the plan, as proposed by the delegates from Arkansas, Texas, North Carolina, Mississippi, and Missouri, will be adopted by the Oklahoma rules as a pattern, probably will be adopted by the national overseas sales agency with compulsory pools for members of the various state organizations, themselves bound to the national plan.

A member may sell his cotton, according to plans already approved, by producing a bona fide offer from any firm, and by withdrawing from the pool after definite notice, delegates said.

CIVIL WAR CITED BY LLOYD-GEORGE

London, April 19.—(By the Associated Press).—Premier Lloyd-George today defended the government policy toward the Sinn Féin movement in a lengthy reply to a protest, sent to him by nine Anglican bishops and the heads of the principal Non-Conformist churches in Great Britain.

The American civil war, said the prime minister, provides an exact parallel to the situation in Ireland today. He referred to Lincoln's rejection of true or compromise in the present crisis and to the British government's attitude in the present crisis as being similar to Lincoln's in order to preserve the empire.

The churchmen had protested against the government's course in Ireland, which, they said, exposed Great Britain to "misunderstanding and hostile criticism." The premier, in his reply, referred to the new Irish home-rule bill as a possible solution of the whole difficulty.

Believe our idea of combining unity with home rule is a finer and nobler idea than excessive nationalism, which is the cause of the present situation—which is the Sinn Féin creed, and which, if it had full play, would bankrupt the world, said the premier.

FAR-SIGHTED POLICY URGED FOR AVIATION

Washington, April 19.—Need of a far-sighted policy in the development of aviation, both for commercial and war purposes, is emphasized in a report submitted at the request of President Harding by the advisory committee for aeronautics. The final form of the plan, as proposed by the delegates from Arkansas, Texas, North Carolina, Mississippi, and Missouri, will be adopted by the Oklahoma rules as a pattern, probably will be adopted by the national overseas sales agency with compulsory pools for members of the various state organizations, themselves bound to the national plan.

A member may sell his cotton, according to plans already approved, by producing a bona fide offer from any firm, and by withdrawing from the pool after definite notice, delegates said.

DAYS OF WILHELM'S REIGN RECALLED IN CONSORT'S FUNERAL

Berlin, April 19.—Augusta Victoria, former empress of Germany, rests in quietude today at Potsdam, royal suburb of Berlin, after a day of mourning pageantry which recalled the mourning days of the Hohenzollern reign.

The funeral was marked by the absence only of two of the notable figures which in other days would have been prominent in the ceremonies. Neither the ex-emperor nor his eldest son was present.

But in addition to the four sons who were permitted to be present, and scores of princes and princesses more or less remotely connected with the former reigning house, hundreds of members of the ex-emperor's household, and scores of military notables, headed by the old army leaders—Hindenburg, Ludendorff, von Mackensen, von Kluck and von Falkenhayn—formed an imposing cortege. Forty thousand German people filed past the casket.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN, Constitution Bureau.

Lard made from cotton seed oil is selling around 9-14 cents per pound, and oil is selling around 4 cents per pound.

It is not known when the game will be played off, as Coaches Boone and Bean did not mention the play-off date. It will be played off before the close of the league schedule, however.

Cadets Recover

G. M. A. made a great recovery in its game with Commercial High Tuesday, winning easily, much to the elation of the College park fans, by the score of 22 to 1. The Cadets, slumped last week and were defeated by University School for Boys. This was their first game since.

The game was featured by the terrific scoring of the Cadets, which, coupled with rather slow fielding on the part of the typists, accounted for the disaster.

The Boys' High school team added another victory to their list yesterday afternoon when they took the Fulton High school into camp by the score of 11 to 0. Both teams used accurate pitchers, and the interest that usually prevails at the Fulton games was not in evidence.

Score by innings: 0 0 0 0 0 2 6 Boys' High. 604 12 1 4 2 2 Batteries—Wallace and Robertson; Phillips and Bobo.

ALLEGED CON MEN FACE JURY TODAY

Wm. Fletcher Is Charged With Helping in Fleecing Memphis Man Out
of $27,000.

William Fletcher, alias Canadian Willie, alias the Count, jointly indicted with Floyd Foodward, Abe Powers and Jackknife O'Brien for larceny after trust, will go on trial Wednesday morning in the criminal division of the superior court before Judge John D. Humphries.

It is charged that the men fleeced O. Wynne, of Memphis, Tenn., out of $27,000 in 1917. The trio of bunco men met Wynne in Florida and induced him to come to Atlanta, where the deal was concluded and the money obtained from him. It is claimed.

Two checks on Rainer and Connell, cotton factors of Memphis, from whom Wynne is alleged to have borrowed the money, will be introduced as evidence. One of the checks was for $15,000, and the other for $12,000.

RECOGNIZE IRISH 'REPUBLIC' DEMAND TO GO TO CAPITAL

Chicago, April 19.—Recognize the Irish "republic."

A demand to this effect, to be forwarded to the United States government, was formulated at the closing session late Tuesday of the convention of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

The committee on resolutions was reported as favorable to the message to President Harding, introduced by Rev. W. B. Cahill, head of the Illinois delegation, calling upon the president for intervention to "protect" the Irish from the British "black and tan."

PARDON FOR MEN HELD AS POLITICAL PRISONERS URGED

Harding to Name Justice Gould To Federal Bench

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, April 19.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—It is understood tonight that President Harding will appoint Justice Ashby M. Gould, of the district supreme court, as judge of the federal circuit court of appeals, to succeed the late Judge Jeter Pritchard, of North Carolina, who died recently in Asheville.

Justice Gould on Monday was in conference at the white house with President Harding. Following the conference, it was reported that President Harding had offered the judgeship to him.

Justice Gould is a native of Maryland. Before his appointment as a judge of the district supreme court, he was district attorney.

Prior to that he was actively engaged in politics in Maryland, having been a member of the state legislature, and also at one time a candidate for president of the Maryland state senate.

When district attorney, Justice Gould handled several important criminal cases and obtained many convictions. He is considered an unusually able lawyer and jurist.

It had been currently reported that Judge Gould would be appointed to this vacancy. Therefore, the tentative selection of Judge Gould comes as a surprise.

This appointment will be similar to that made in the Fifth circuit, when Judge Alex King, of Atlanta, was appointed to succeed Judge Pardo.

Employees of the offices will be armed with the weapons.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS OF STATE GATHER

Georgia State Convention to Remain in Session at Macon Through Thurs-

Macon, Ga., April 19.—(Special.)—The significant part played by homes, public schools and Sunday schools in the upbuilding of a righteous state, was the subject of addresses this afternoon in the opening meeting of the Georgia state convention to be in session here through Thursday.

By sun down 700 delegates had officially registered.

The theme of the convention, "Building a Righteous State," was echoed and re-echoed through the speeches of both afternoon and night sessions. A large white banner stretched above the altar bore the words in large black letters, "Building a Righteous State." During the afternoon sessions, Dr. Carl W. Minor, Mrs. Maud J. Baldwin, Professor M. L. Brittain, Dr. Henry Brown made talks. At the night session, Dr. Minor, Dr. Trull, Dr. Brown and Myron S. Settle gave addresses.

Importance of Home Life.

Taking as her subject at the afternoon session "The Home," Mrs. Maud J. Baldwin, of Chicago, of the children's division, superintendent of the International Sunday school association, emphasized the importance of the home as the basis of a righteous state.

Dr. Henry Brown, of Philadelphia, associate editor of the American Baptist Publication society, discussing the part the Sunday school plays in the building of a righteous state, declared the Sunday school is the greatest school in the world for four reasons. "It is the greatest school in the world because it has the greatest text book known to man, the Bible; because it has the greatest organization in the world, the greatest aim in the world, the greatest motive in the world, Jesus Christ."

Is America Safe?

Using the blackboard to illustrate his points, Dr. William A. Brown, of Chicago, director of the department of evangelism of the international Sunday school convention, spoke for six minutes on "Is America Safe?"

The evening session began at 7:45 o'clock with the fifteen minutes of song. Dr. Minor in his quiet hour talk took as his subject "Turning Men to Righteousness."

INDICATIONS POINT TO CAROLINA MAN FOR REVENUE JOB

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, April 19.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—The one government plum that has been more sought after than any other is that of commissioner of internal revenue. The prohibition question has entered heartily into the contest, and while enforcement will eventually be transferred to the department of justice, the issue has remained paramount in pushing the claims of applicants for this position.

Tonight it looks as though David P. Blair, of Winston-Salem, N. C., will be immediately appointed. He is a prominent lawyer, a Quaker, and a brother of J. W. A. Blair, president of the People's National bank of Winston. He is a son-in-law of Cannon, the cotton mill magnate of the old north state, and who is several times a millionaire.

The appointment of Blair of North Carolina will be considered a straddle between the drys and wets, though the issue in reality should not enter into it.

Congressman Bascom Stimp, of Virginia, could have the appointment if he were not so much of an underdog tonight he will not accept it. If he changes his mind he can be the commissioner.

DOG CARRIES CHICKS To Safety in Kennel During Heavy Rain

Birmingham, Ala., April 19.—"Another story of the intelligence of man's best friend," the dog, which friendship this time was turned to a number of small chicks in dire need, as a result of the storm that swept over the city Saturday.

W. L. Woodruff, secretary of the local Athletic club, is a poultry fancier. He had a number of young chicks just hatched when the storm came. He also has an albatross.

He left the small chicks unprotected, and when the fierce rain struck his poultry ran he concluded that his chicks were but a memory, and he proceeded to pick up the remains, he caught the albatross with one in its mouth. Grabbing a handy stick he proceeded to mete out proper punishment. Later, going to the albatross kennel, he found his young chicks dry and safe in the dog's house.

Committee Plans To Take Up Peace Measure Thursday

Washington, April 19.—The Knox peace resolution will be taken up by the senate foreign relations committee next Thursday. It was announced today, with a view to a prompt favorable report.

The date for senate consideration is indefinite as it is the plan to take up first the emergency tariff bill and the length of time the finance committee will spend in considering that measure is uncertain.

Medical science is unable to explain the cause of war.

ROADS TO DEMAND CO-OPERATIVE CUTS

Will Resist Rate Reductions Unless Corresponding Cuts in Expenses Are Provided.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, April 19.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—The railroad men are preparing to resist the last ditch reduction in passenger and freight rates without co-operative reductions in their expense disbursements. That announcement comes semi-officially today from the Association of Railway Executives.

As congress prepares to go into this investigation it is interesting to observe that there is a decided feeling of optimism both in the railroad men and the congressmen. The disposition seems to be to let natural economic laws take their course.

There have been some hints that the railroad men might present an argument favorable to a proposal for additional government financial support in the event of the present investigation and study leading to a revision downward of rates of carriage. That, however, is a possibility.

Satisfactory Adjustments.

While the argument still continues, it is believed that the railroad wages must be reduced as a first step toward economy—a proposition which might be made in a labor question was ever drawn in this country—some of the trunk line roads have been seriously considering adjustments can be made with their employees on a basis of more economy. It is believed that such adjustments will relieve the railroads of some per cent of their operating cost.

The extent to which the staggered reductions are seriously contemplating the whole economic fabric of the United States is shown in a striking manner by the fact that the total operating cost of the American carriers increased $1,406,000,000 in 1920 over the total operating cost in 1919.

Result of Scramble.

The result of the whole scramble must, before tangible results can be attained, be first, vesting of funds with the interstate commerce commission, and second, a basis of reduction in rates and operating costs and living costs that shall tally, that neither the employer nor the employee be enabled by reason of the co-ordinated agreement to enter into such a pact without embarrassment.

That this congress and the executive board of the government and industry are now working.

DAMAGE BY FIRE TO ADEL CONCERN TOTALS $25,000

Adel, Ga., April 19.—(Special.)—The South Georgia Grocery company, a wholesale grocery concern located here, was completely destroyed by fire between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning. The building was located next to the Parrish & Bray warehouse. The origin of the fire was unknown. The building was almost enveloped in flames when the fire was discovered.

S. J. Faircloth, manager of the South Georgia Grocery company at Quitman, was here soon after the fire was discovered. He says that the building will be rebuilt at an early date. Insurance was carried on both the stock and building. The loss was estimated at about $25,000.

Urges $100,000,000 For Roadbuilding At Greensboro Meet

Greensboro, N. C., April 19.—Senator Thomas Hefflin, of Alabama, was the principal speaker today at the second session of the ninth annual convention of the United States Good Roads association. He wanted to tell you that we have a majority in the house and senate, said the senator, who assured his audience that money for road-building would be made available when ever it became apparent that the various states were willing to bear half of the expense. He urged a nation-wide campaign for good roads.

In the course of his address, Senator Hefflin declared that good roads make good for morals, religion, citizenship, everything. He said that he had come from American roads than from any other cause.

"But there is going to be," continued the senator, "a movement to stop this co-operative building. I think I see it in the air. They are talking about holding up this work until a survey can be made. I call on you to pass the strongest resolutions here calling not only for $75,000,000, but $100,000,000."

Judge Chipley, who was 77 years old, had been living in Edge-wood for thirty years and had taken an active interest in the growth and affairs of his community. He was credited with being the father of the movement which incorporated the city of Edge-wood.

He had been a steward of the Epworth Methodist church for a number of years, having affiliated with it at the time its membership was very small.

Surviving him are his wife, one son, Carlton Chipley, of Fowler, S. C., and one brother, William T. Chipley.

Board Hears Evidence On Tariff Is Urged

Chicago, April 19.—The United States railroad board waded through another avalanche of figures today as more than a score of roads continued their plea for revision of wage scales. Reduced cost of living and decreased wages paid to similar labor in other industries have made present railroad wages unjustifiable, the carriers contended, and several roads predicted receiverships and bankruptcy if the situation was not remedied at once.

Colored women, washing windows for railway companies, get $120 a month in the south, while postal employees get but $116 to $125, one witness declared, and others cited statistics from the west and south to show lower wages in other industries than those paid on the railroad.

N. C. & St. L. Losing.

The exhibits generally showed decreases in the cost of food and clothing and nearly parallel reductions in outside wages. Most of the roads asked reductions which compared favorably with the decreases in the cost of living or asked permission to hire labor at the prevailing market price in their own territory.

Fitzgerald Hall, for the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, said his road was losing $2,000 a day and that the proposed reduced scale would still be 100 per cent higher than that of March, 1920. He said his road was doing a normal business, but was steadily losing money and that it was not due to the financial depression.

$400,000,000 NEEDED TO SETTLE CLAIMS

Will Bring Total Government Rail Loss to Two Billions.

Washington, April 19.—An additional appropriation of $400,000,000 is needed to meet the government's losses from operating the railroads. Director General of Railroads Davis has informed Representative Good, chairman of the house ways and means committee.

Good estimated this amount will bring the total of the government's losses to $2,000,000,000.

The new appropriation, Good understood, is largely to pay damage claims for which the railroads ordinarily would have been responsible. In addition, the railroad administration is engaged in settling a claim of the railroads for depreciation during government operation. The amount of these, in the majority of instances, is yet to be determined.

The senate interstate commerce committee within a few days expects to begin hearings on the bill of Senator Leavitt providing for consolidation of the roads into fewer systems. Senator Cummins, chairman of the committee, expects to get under way his railroad investigation before the first of next month.

SEEK AMENDMENT TO RESERVE BILL

Atlanta Bank Organization Starts Campaign Among Congressmen for Change.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN,
Constitution Bureau.

Washington, April 19.—(By Constitution Leased Wire).—The National and State Bankers' Protective Association, with headquarters in Atlanta, has begun an active campaign among congressmen, seeking to amend the federal reserve bank act in the much discussed matter of par clearance. This issue which originally sprang into national prominence from Georgia, is now pending before the supreme court, and while bills were introduced in the sixty-sixth congress, by Congressmen Brand, of Georgia, and Steagall, of Alabama, to amend the act repealing the clause providing that "no such clearance charges shall be made against the federal reserve bank," neither amendment became a law, hence the fight in the courts.

The effort before the present congress will be to so clarify the federal reserve act that it can not in any way interfere with the powers of the states to regulate their own banks.

Aim of Board.

The federal reserve board is undertaking to establish in this country what they term "universal par clearance." They claim the federal reserve act and amendments make this action compulsory on the board and acquiescence therein obligatory on members of the federal reserve system and those state banks that come in by agreement. As the law under such construction, puts the burden of remitting at par for their own checks on banks that are members of the federal reserve system, the board has felt it necessary to so construe the act as to require said board to force non-member banks to do likewise regardless of their wishes in the matter.

While thousands of non-member banks throughout the country have acquiesced in this position, most of them unwillingly, there are thousands of banks that refuse to so acquiesce and bitterly resent and stoutly resist the conclusions of the board and the methods employed by its agents to force agreements in accordance therewith.

This new organization of banks has come into existence having several thousand members in practically every state with the express purpose of protecting what they consider their charter rights.

as state banks as well as an ancient custom of the banking business. Many members of this organization are national banks and members state banks, it is said.

Resolution Adopted.
The annual convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks unanimously passed resolutions asking congress to amend the act so as to allow exchange charges.
It is also claimed that the annual conventions of bankers' associations in many states have almost unanimously gone on record as favoring reasonable exchange charges for service in remitting for checks and approving the right on the ruling and methods of the federal reserve board.

outside world to maintain a money system in such relation to gold that exchanges will be possible. Therefore, as to the domestic problem, we must extend through our financial instrumentalities every encouragement to the producer. The farmer must be assured, right now, that in his effort to buy fertilizers and seed and implement and labor for the next crop, he will be given the fullest support, the broadest credit that can possibly be extended through the banks, and that the federal government and its banking structure will stand squarely back of individual banks that wisely and in moderation extend necessary credits for these purposes.

"Credit as a basis of production there must be credit as an incentive and means to make unproductive speculation there must not be. I can say to you bankers and to the great agricultural community behind you that this is and will be the policy of those responsible for the supervision of national banks."

Turning to the cotton industry, Mr. Crissinger declared no other American industry so thoroughly deserved assistance at a time of temporary stress. Authorities guiding the broader financial policies of the country, he said, are determined to exert whatever power and influence may be necessary to bring the industry back to a basis of assured prosperity.
"I do not want to be understood," he continued, "as suggesting that the government can be relied upon to do the things that private enterprise, thrift and effort must do, but I am willing that you should very definitely understand me to mean that every possible support and encouragement, consistent with sanity and soundness, based on the consolidated credit and authority of American business and American government, will be held out in this time of trial and stress."

To Encourage Exports.
Efforts set on foot to enable foreign buyers to continue taking American cotton, Mr. Crissinger said, would receive every feasible and safe encouragement. Conditions abroad are improving and the outlook for increasing trade with the United States is decidedly hopeful, he added.
At this point, he concluded, "again I give assurance that the utmost support will be given by the government's financial authorities to every effort at extension of credits by which foreign trade may be developed. The task must be handled hereafter through the processes of commercial transactions and the unceasing flow of supplies and the liquidation of accounts. Of government credit and money we have given all that can safely be permitted."

President Skipper stated that committees have been appointed to devise plans for bringing contractors and carpenters in closer relation with each other, that the members of the council might better understand trade conditions and eliminate unnecessary disputes. One of the most important developments of the morning session was the announcement by the president of plans for advocating a campaign having as its view the building of homes for all Atlantans.

Atlanta to the West

The establishment of a regular through merchandise car service from Atlanta to Chattanooga and Kansas City, loaded every other day and delivered the fifth morning at its destination, has been announced by the N. C. & St. L. railway. After certain details of the plan will at first necessarily have to be worked out, it will later be extended to daily service, as soon as the business warrants it. On the same plan, through merchandise service from the same points will be established to Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILES REGAINED AFTER RACE

An automobile belonging to Harry Helmer, proprietor of an ice cream establishment, which was stolen from his place of business Monday night, was recovered Tuesday night by Deputy Sheriff White, after an auto race finally ending at Stewart avenue and Whitehall street, where the stolen car was forced to stop after it had crashed into another automobile. The driver escaped, leaving both cars slightly damaged.

Dorsey Returns After Business Trip to New York

Governor Hugh M. Dorsey got off a southbound train from Washington at the Terminal station here late Tuesday afternoon—just a little tired and dusty. But he was smiling and took time before getting into a taxi to say that "it was good to see the old town again."

For the past ten days the governor has been in New York and other financial centers trying to sell some $2,000,000 in Georgia school warrants so that the children throughout the state may remain under the instruction of teachers for the remainder of the school year.

After he had arrived at the mansion, Governor Dorsey stated that with negotiations pending for the sale of the warrants, he thought it best not to give any detailed statement on the matter until something definite is learned.
Speaking of the Williams case, the chief executive said that every where he went while in New York, Albany, Washington and other cities, he found everyone very interested.

"They were somewhat surprised at the verdict returned by the jury, and could not understand why mercy was recommended when the defendant was found guilty," he said.

"Everywhere I went I was questioned about the case. The quick action that our courts took impressed the northerners, and served to show that Georgians believe in the enforcement of the law."
The governor has already intimated that he would work for a change of venue from Jasper county to John S. Williams' home in the "cotton farm," and his three sons are brought up for trial there. No trace of the Williams boys has yet been discovered.

When he retires from office in June, Governor Dorsey will return to his law practice in Atlanta and will also be interested in the Georgia Cotton Bank and Trust company which, several months ago, was granted a charter by the secretary of state.

Advocates of free lumber set up a howl when it was discovered that the tentative rates contemplate that while rough lumber, except fire and spruce, shall be free of duty, lumber finished on two sides would bear a duty of 50 cents per 1,000 feet, and lumber finished on more than two sides, $1 per 1,000 feet. The rates on fire and spruce are $1.50 per 1,000 feet on rough lumber, $2 per 1,000 feet of lumber finished on two sides, and $2.50 on lumber finished on more than two sides.

Why Your Grocer Recommends Stone's "Made-with-Butter" Cakes

The grocer's profit is small—he makes but two or three cents on the sale of one of STONE'S CAKES—out of which he pays the cost of delivery—clerk's hire—and all other expenses. So he must be assured you will come back well satisfied—and perhaps, buy two the next time.

The grocer knows he must create confidence in the mind of his customers. People trade where they are well treated—and get the best—he knows that.

It's the repeat sale—without any argument—without any apology—that makes it profitable for the wise grocer to sell—and recommend STONE'S CAKES.

And STONE'S sunlit—spotless cake bakery—is always open for inspection. Your grocer has seen for himself the pure ingredients used—the clean well lighted bakery—the intelligent supervision and infinite care exercised in making STONE'S "Made-with-Butter" cake. And he knows you will come back, satisfied, for more.

PERMANENT TARIFF BILL IS CERTAINTY

Tentative Duties Provide for Protection for All Fir and Spruce.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN,
Constitution Bureau.

Washington, April 19.—(By Constitution Leased Wire).—In a fight over the lumber schedule, the permanent tariff bill became a certainty today when it was learned that duties have been imposed tentatively upon practically all finished lumber, only certain kinds of rough lumber remaining in the free list.
The duties, as tentatively agreed upon, provide for protection on all kind of fir and spruce, both rough and finished lumber. This is designed to furnish protection to the west coast lumbermen, who fear importations from British Columbia.
The general impression has been that pine and other kinds of lumber, both rough and finished, would be allowed to come in free, inasmuch as no claim of any need of protection has been advanced by the manufacturers. That lumber should remain on the free list has been strongly urged by the National Retail Lumber Dealers' association, as a means of encouraging housing construction and also in order to conserve the forests of the United States.

Advocates of free lumber set up a howl when it was discovered that the tentative rates contemplate that while rough lumber, except fire and spruce, shall be free of duty, lumber finished on two sides would bear a duty of 50 cents per 1,000 feet, and lumber finished on more than two sides, $1 per 1,000 feet. The rates on fire and spruce are $1.50 per 1,000 feet on rough lumber, $2 per 1,000 feet of lumber finished on two sides, and $2.50 on lumber finished on more than two sides.
It is declared that comparatively little rough lumber comes in from Canada, hence the impression of a duty on finished pine and other vaeties of lumber is said to mean that the bulk of the imports will be dutiable. The savings in freight rates on finished lumber, as compared with rough lumber is so great that it will continue to be more economical to bring in the finished lumber than to import it in rough form.

In the meantime a tremendous protest is going up against a tariff on lumber, especially applying to Canada, by reason of the fact that Canada trades principally in the United States, and if a ten year duty is erected along the Canadian border, that wall will keep American goods in as well as Canadian goods, including lumber, out, all of which would show a loss to this nation of hundreds of millions a year.

Mrs. Kate Richard O'Hare, lecturer of international reputation, addressed a large audience Tuesday night in the assembly room of the Woodmen of the World's lodge, 104 West Mitchell street. The theme of her lecture was "Crime and Criminals."
With more than twenty years' experience on the platform and in journalistic work, she has been an ardent worker for the socialist cause and has spent the greater part of her life attempting to secure public recognition of the cause she represents. Only recently she served fourteen months in the federal prison at Jefferson Prison, Mo., for alleged violation of the espionage act.

NO TRUE BILL FOUND IN BLACKMAIL CASE

Although Mrs. Wilhelmina R. Dougherty, of 19 Prado, appeared before the Fulton county grand jury Tuesday to testify against W. Coleman Allen, of Nacoochee valley, for an alleged attempt, at blackmail, the jury did not take any action in the matter.

After a young farmer, and his wife were taken into custody Monday afternoon by City Detectives Hollingsworth and Hamilton, charged by Mrs. Dougherty with attempting blackmail as an outgrowth of the recent divorce action against her husband, Daniel O. Dougherty.
While waiting to go before the grand jury, Mrs. Dougherty charged that the alleged blackmail attempt was instigated by her forced husband in an effort to take the children from her. The two children were awarded, by Judge W. D. Ellis, when a jury granted a decree to her and her husband, to do with the disposition of the key.

nesses, in Mrs. Dougherty's suit for divorce against her husband who was given his final trial in March and in which Mrs. Dougherty won a decree.
Ralph McCalland, attorney for Mrs. Allen on the witness stand, and the depositions of the older Allen only went to show that Mrs. Dougherty's conduct, when she stopped at the Allen house in 1918, was beyond reproach. He said there was nothing in the testimony of the Alleys about Ray E. Vincent, alleged affinity of Mrs. Dougherty, except that Mrs. Dougherty never did meet Vincent at the Allen house.
A jury in the civil division of the superior court Tuesday found in favor of the Central Bank and Trust corporation in the suit brought against that concern by D. O. Dougherty to recover the value of $1,400 in liberty bonds which were left in the latter's deposit box at the bank when he went overseas with the Red Cross.
It was shown that Mrs. Dougherty gave the keys of the box to Vincent and that he got the bonds from the box. Dougherty held that the bank was liable, while the bank contended that he left the key with his wife and that the bank had nothing to do with the disposition of the key.

BRINGING IT HOME.

Our controversy with Japan
over cable concessions on the little south-sea island of Yap affords additional vindication of the truthfulness of the Biblical assertion that "whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

While the senate "poison squad"
and the irreconcilables generally throughout the country were "getting even with Wilson" by putting this government in the attitude of turning its back upon everything which President Wilson had world readjustments following the war, they were sowing the seed of future international complications.

In the Yap situation, we are reaping a part of the harvest!

During the sessions of the supreme council at Paris, by which Japan was given a mandate over Yap, a word from the United States would have been sufficient to have effectively prevented any award or the adoption of any policy not to the liking of this government.

Repeatedly the United States was importuned and implored to act as a member of that council and participate in its deliberations.

We were wanted there by the other powers, Japan included; and we should have been there, where the weight of our influence would have counted big in the shaping of all decisions upon which the future peace of the world and our own future welfare as a great world power largely rested.

But we were busy "getting even with Wilson!"

So there was nothing else for this supreme council—a body provided for by the peace treaty—to do than to proceed as best it could without our participation, advice or counsel.

The United States was affected directly or indirectly, by everything the council did, and many of the situations with which it dealt were of particular, immediate and direct importance to us.

The fixing of the status of Yap was one of them; and because of our direct interest growing out of the strategic position of the island,
the mere expression of our desire would have adjusted the status of Yap to our complete satisfaction.

But we were interested only in crediting, humiliating and chas-tising Wilson, and in breaking him, politically and physically, on the wheel of vicious, bitter, unwarranted and indefensible criticism!

Now we are reaping our reward
—reaping what we have sowed—struggling with an international situation, the possible seriousness of which it is now impossible to dismiss!

Had we kept faith with our war associates—had we remained with them, and participated in the economic, industrial and geographical readjustment that was the inevitable aftermath of the war—we would today be confronted with no such an international misunderstanding as that involved in our controversy over Yap.

IT WON'T WORK NOW.

nection with the charges of two viction or in the process of con-

Thus far the defense of the de-

BOB GORDON'S "DAMN."

As a general proposition expletives and cusswords are not to be condoned, but occasionally a condition arises when, if they are not justified they may at least be excused.

For instance, when General
Charles G. Dawes was summoned before a republican investigating committee of congress to make political capital of the administration of our war affairs in Europe
he promptly broke up the proceedings and turned it on its own axis
by his famous "Hell and Mariah" response.

So it is that Councilman "Bob"
Gordon has achieved local notoriety if not distinction by his supremely expressive "damn" with reference to the record of the Atlanta park board in the building of the new cyclorama at Grant park.

$100,000 was appropriated for that work.

But now the park board, with the job uncompleted, asks council to give it $46,000 more!

Of course, the people will have to dig this money out of a sadly depleted pocketbook in order to get the benefit of the $100,000 already expended, for a building that lacks $46,000 of completion is as useless as no building at all, and the cyclorama must be safely housed.

No wonder Councilman Gordon thought "damn"—and employed the time-honored English expletive to express his thought—when he found that among other things, the park board has been paying $400 a month for months for the services of a superintendent to superintend seven men at work on the cyclorama.

Undoubtedly this botch on the part of the park board is largely responsible for the vote of council to practically annihilate board administration in Atlanta. The good and the bad are made to suffer.

After awhile the city of Atlanta will learn that a city is nothing other than a big corporation, and that its affairs must be managed by men who are acquainted with at least the rudimentary elements of business.

If there ever was an occasion justifying the use of a "damn" there certainly is one—and there are mightily few people who will think any the less of Bob Gordon for saying just what he thought in this instance.

PLAY BALL!

The 1921 baseball season opens officially tomorrow with a game between Atlanta and Mobile, to be played on the Ponce de Leon diamond.

Every effort will be made by Atlanta to win, not only the game, but also the Southern league opening day attendance record.

The game, participated in by players in the traditional "pink condition," fresh from the training grounds and full of "pep," will be well worth seeing; but, in the chances of winning the attendance cup Atlanta has additional incentive to attend tomorrow's game.

This cup is to be awarded by the president of the Southern league to the member city turning out the greatest opening day attendance.

Atlanta won a similar cup last year, with an attendance above 13,000.

There are more and better reasons now than then for winning the attendance cup.

The cities comprising the major division of the league are Atlanta, Birmingham, Memphis and New Orleans; and this is the last city of the four in which the opening game is yet to be played.

The Birmingham and Memphis opening day crowds each numbered approximately 12,000, while that attending the opening game at New Orleans was negligible, on account of stormy weather.

So, even by doing no better than it did last year, Atlanta will be able to carry off the honors again tomorrow, making it two straight.

But with the chamber of commerce and other civic organizations, the habitual baseball fans and every other citizen "boosting the game" in the proper spirit, Atlanta should and will win this year's trophy.

Go to the ball game tomorrow!
Even if you are not a baseball enthusiast, and even if you do not expect to attend another game during the season, go—by all means go—to this game!

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. M'INTYRE

New York, April 19.—This is the time of year the New Yorker begins to blow its nose. It is a sad surplus in a few mad weeks. Vacan-tion means more to New York workers than workers in most other cities. All year they are in the scrapers, ride underground to work and see nothing of nature's grandeur.

Consequently they are intrigued by the alluring advertisements of "sparkling lakes, rockbound coasts, flower-carpeted meadows and sunbathed forests." Now the European travel has opened up, the young clerks and stenographers will make merry trips of trans-Atlantic boats. They can do this in their allotted two weeks and have a few days on the other side.

But mainly the vacation periods
will be spent in Maine, the Cats-kills and the neighboring seaside resorts. The next thing is to come back with a heavy coat of tan and thereby completely awe the fellow palefaces. And also speak of "how splendid Newport is this season."

Going on a vacation is something to brag about here. People do not know their neighbors, but they like to impress them. Many New Yorkers return from their vacation with weeks' stay at Sea Gate below Coney Island with their luggage plastered with foreign labels—bought on Delancey street at 25 cents a dozen.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A GOOD TAKE.
S. L. K. occupies the pulpit today, sister. Regular conductor's goin' fishin'.

Dear Doctor:
I have followed your health talk
day by day and I wish every man, woman and child in this land were compelled by law to read and absorb your teachings. The ignorance of most of our supposedly educated people is indeed appalling. The still "catch cold" out in the air!
Although I have on many occasions had my feet wet all day and nearly frozen to death, let me say that since I have learned a few things from you no one has succeeded in handing me a respiratory infection.
For which I take off my hat and heartily thank you. More power to you and your work. We have learned so many good things from you and the five minutes I spend with you daily is a joy—and it's all free! Perhaps that's the reason some people do not read you.

I just wanted to thank you. Let me close by saying that the fellow I take off my hat to has got to be some fellow.

Very respectfully yours,
(S. L. K.)

Is there any answer? Well, please don't bother me. I think I've got a bite. Fill out the rest of the space with the letter from the Wisconsin real estate man—
give 'em the Wisconsin idea, you know.

Dear Doctor Brady:
We took dinner with my wife's father-in-law had a so-called "cold," but of course she just had to hold baby on her lap and wipe its mouth with her handkerchief.
I objected, and a great row followed—I had to fight four of them single-handed. Well, on the night of the second day following our visit the baby began to cough, and for six days we had an anxious time with the little fellow. He couldn't sleep through his nose, took practically no food, coughed and sneezed incessantly day and night, and lost control of his bowels. His hands and feet were always cold, though he had a high fever, and he was sweating much.

In the course of this sickness I found the baby was cutting his fifth tooth, a lower one.

Every man, woman and doctor says the cause of all this illness was the cutting of the tooth.

I believe the cause was infection unwittingly contributed by the baby's grandmother, either directly by spray infection or by the use of her handkerchief on the baby's face.

If cutting a tooth can account for such an illness, I don't see how it happened that the baby cut his four other teeth without having coryza, bronchitis or any other disturbance
of health.

Yours respectfully,
(R. F. W.)

ANSWER—Maybe you and I will answer such mysteries when we become old women. Watch that grandmother when it floats around that little eddy there.

about—despite their lonely, unex-
citing lives.

A few weeks later he was in New York. A crowd suddenly collected outside his apartment window. It grew so big that the police had to be called. The cause of the excitement was the hunt for a pedestrian who had been shot by a man who suddenly slipped out of his hand. That is the spirit of New York!

Pipe smokers are gaining new privileges since prohibition. It used to be that pipes were banned, but the bars are gradually being let down in cafes and now it is not unusual to see pipe smokers light up their torches and enjoy themselves.
Cafes are in need of patronage.
That is the answer. One down on Broadway found it attracted a certain number of customers by letting it be known pipe smoking was permitted. Others heard about it and sought to boost business in the same way. A large hotel, however, still forbids pipe smoking in their foyer.

ABOLISH BOARDS, URGES HARDWICK

Establishment of Two Commissions to Govern Educational Institutions Is Proposed.

Declaring himself in favor of more progressive methods in the management of state schools and educational institutions, Governor-elect Thomas W. Hardwick announced Tuesday he would recommend in his first message to the general assembly the abolition of all boards now controlling these institutions and the establishment of two separate commissions to discharge the functions of the board.

This sweeping proposal of the governor-elect, if adopted by the legislature, would mean the abolishing of the trustees of the university of Georgia, Tech, G. N. I. C., all the agricultural colleges and other state institutions. In addition to these, there are numbers of other boards connected with the state government, among which are those of the department of agriculture, industrial commission and council of national defense.

"My views are in line with the most progressive thought in connection with higher education and in keeping with the proven experience of many states," Mr. Hardwick explained Tuesday morning. "It seems to me that a board of regents for higher education, truly representative of the state, is in a better position to direct the higher educational institutions than a score or more of boards, each interested only in a single institution."

"Moreover, and equally as important, a single board will, in my judgment, be able to effect economies in administration, and be better able to inform the governor and the legislature as to the needs and requirements of the several institutions."

There has been, as every one familiar with the facts understands, more or less conflict between the several boards and commissions. There have been jealousies and misunderstandings, which have not helped the institutions. A single board of regents will make for co-ordination and co-operation, and certainly will bring great efficiency."

TAX EQUALIZATION

LAW WILL CAUSE FIGHT

lected even before the legislature meets.

In discussing the financial condition of the treasury Tuesday night, H. J. Fulbright, state tax commissioner, stated that he believed that the passage of an income tax law will provide the only solution to the problem. He called attention to the report of the treasurer of Wisconsin in which it is shown that the state will have a balance of $11,000,000 on July 1, 1921. This state has a modern tax system, including an income tax act.

"The treasurer of the state of Wisconsin," said Mr. Fulbright, "is quoted in a recent publication to the effect that there will be on July 1, 1921, to the credit of the general funds at least $11,000,000. Credit for this excellent financial condition is given to the modern tax system of the state."

"Compared with Georgia, Wisconsin is smaller in area and has less population. There are 56,066 square miles in Wisconsin and 59,265 in Georgia. According to the 1920 census, Wisconsin has 2,631,839 people, while this state has 2,894,864. It is my opinion that the means of relieving the financial stringency of our state is by adopting an income tax law."

Tax on Corporations.

Under the present system, all corporations in Georgia are taxed on the returned value of their property. The comptroller general has the authority to reject returns of the companies if, in his opinion, the real value of the property has not been returned.

In such a case, a board of arbitration, composed of one member of the state railroad commission, who represents the state, any person the corporation selects, and an umpire chosen by the first two arbiters, decides the value of the property. The state is said to have lost most of the arbitrations during recent years.

While no official announcement has been made, it is believed that an income tax, which would place corporation taxation on a gross earnings basis and include other very important improvements, will be recommended to the legislature, and that such a measure will be introduced.

It is interesting to note that the aggregate value of corporations in Georgia, as listed for taxation in 1920, was $165,393,453, which will yield to the state $826,967.39 this year.

Compared with this, the value of private property, as listed in the digest filed at the capitol, was $1,181,473,028, which will yield $55,907,363 to the state coffers. The increase of private property values of 1920 over 1913, the year the tax equalization law went into effect, was $458,353,044. This was an increase of 63 per cent.

Value in 1913.

In 1913, the value of property under the equalization act was $885,800,863. The year following, an increase of 59 per cent was shown.

In the matter of tangible property, such as notes, an advance of 23 1/2 per cent was recorded. Approximate.

C. O. CARPENTER.

C. O. Carpenter, president of the Advertising club of Macon, Ga., who will address the members of the Advertising club of Atlanta, of their regular Thursday luncheon meeting on "Bank and Financial Advertising."

He comes highly recommended as an authority on financial advertising, representing several of Macon's largest banks. Those connected with the banking fraternity of Atlanta, will be interested to learn that the Advertising club of Atlanta extends them a cordial invitation to be present at the meeting Thursday to hear what will undoubtedly be a most instructive address.

Charles B. Scott, general manager of the bureau of safety of Chicago, will also favor the club with a brief address on "Public Safety."

The question of public traffic regulations, especially in large cities, has assumed such importance as to make it a matter of international interest and Mr. Scott will undoubtedly be heard with great appreciation.

JUDGE M. W. BECK WILL ENTERTAIN TEN CLUB

Judge Marcus W. Beck will entertain the members of the Atlanta tennis club Friday evening at the Piedmont Driving Club. A usual feature of the gathering of this club is the reading of a paper, but in this instance an address will be made by Judge Arthur G. Powell, his subject being "Mohammedanism."

NOT CONNECTED WITH SOLICITOR

Joseph O. Ewing Denies Any Relationship With John Boykin's Office Since His Election.

Denying any relationship with Solicitor-General Boykin since he assumed office, and quoting John Y. Smith in explanation of why he separated from Mr. Smith's office last March, J. O. Ewing, in a statement issued Tuesday, defied Detective Chief A. Lamar Poole, Detective Lieutenant Robert Waggoner and others to publish the names of the attorneys of the buncos run between 1917 and 1919.

"I still call on Poole, Waggoner and others to let the public know how the buncos men operated during the period from 1917 to 1919," said Attorney Ewing. "I call on them to publish their attorneys' names during these years. I can answer. If they refuse, they know that the mention of the names of any other attorney would help them in their frame-up against me."

"No doubt they had an agreement with their hunting pal, Floyd V. Good, whereby he would come to their rescue if ever Mr. Boykin began an investigation of them and their crowd. He certainly signed exactly what was supposed to serve the purpose."

Letter From Smith.

"In view of the repeated insinuations of Chief Poole in his statements, designed to make the public believe that I was connected with the solicitor-general's office in this country, and by such connection to try to implicate Mr. Boykin in this frame-up against me, and also in view of the statements questioning my purpose in ending my connection with John Y. Smith's office, I wish to quote from a letter received from Mr. Smith. I wrote him, asking him to state why I had left his office."

He replied that I had told him ten days before I opened my own office in the Peters building, of my decision to go into business alone, as I thought I could make more money in that way. He was reluctant to have me go, but we parted on pleasant terms, he said in his letter. He said I had joined his office in 1919, after a long illness, and that he considered me diligent and painstaking in preparation of cases and faithful and honest in all business and personal relations. I have that letter to prove these statements."

In regard to Solicitor.

Regarding Mr. Ewing's connection with the office of solicitor-general, Mr. Smith wrote to Mr. Ewing: "Since your association with me began, we have been busily engaged in fighting cases in that branch of the superior court where Mr. Boykin represented the state of Georgia. Within a short time after Mr. Boykin assumed office in 1918 you became sick and were an invalid for nearly two years. As soon as you were able, you came to my office and were identified actively with it until about March 1 of this year."

"During all this time I have known of no incident showing any relationship between yourself and Mr. Boykin, other than the relationship of any lawyer at the Atlanta bar who represents any person charged with a violation of the criminal law in the superior court of Fulton county."

Good State Reports.

Reports from all over the state indicate that the same generous response is greeting the drive in every quarter and that Georgia is bound to raise the money asked of her to build up Tech. Waycross, West Point, Brunswick and other cities of the state have already subscribed their quotas and the cities which have been given their quotas have responded unanimously that they will secure the amounts asked of them with no difficulty.

Mr. Gregg, leading the city-wide campaign, urges that a full attendance of team captains and workers greet the 12:30 o'clock luncheon hour today and throughout the campaign, just as they have thus far.

The initial subscriptions committees, under the leadership of Mr. Daniel, are still hard at work and are calling on the leading industrial and commercial concerns. Large subscriptions are being received from these sources—Chip Roberts' team builders and building supplies, announced $10,000 from his team's efforts, and E. R. Haas secured $4,450 from the fire insurance men.

J. M. COOPER HEADS TECH HIGH SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHERS

The Parent-Teacher association of Tech High school, which held its initial meeting less than a week ago with an attendance of about 25, has now been permanently organized, and more than 200 parents and patrons of the school have already enrolled as members.

The following have been elected as the officers of the association: John M. Cooper, president; Mrs. B. M. Grant, vice president; E. C. Laird, secretary; Mrs. Cliff Hatcher, treasurer, a constitution and by-laws and general plans for its future activities are to be adopted at the next regular meeting, Tuesday night, May 3, at the school building.

While the objects of the Tech High association fundamentally will be similar to those of the Parent-Teacher associations of the grammar schools, it is expected that on account of Tech High being a specialized school and for boys of the mature age, it will have the distinct feature of enlisting the fathers more actively in parent-teacher work, and in some respects probably broadening the scope.

SUMMER CAMP PLANS ARE MADE BY SCOUTS

Associate Executive Roland L. Shine, of the Boy Scouts, has announced definite plans for a camp site this summer at Galesville, Ga., known as Chattahoochee park and owned by the Georgia Railway and Power company, this company having extended the privilege to the Boy Scout organization of Atlanta to use it for a summer camp.

The camp will be known by the scouts as Camp Friendly and scoutmasters and assistants are planning to join in this outing. Detailed information concerning the program was mailed to over 1,100 Boy Scouts of Atlanta Saturday, and during the first two days more than fifty-two places were reserved. One scoutmaster has made application for reservations for 25 scouts of his troop to attend one of the four periods of the camp.

The camping committee for the Atlanta Scout council is composed of the following men: R. C. Darby, chairman; Dr. Floyd W. McRae, Jr., A. R. Dyer, commissioner of district 3; E. W. Rampeck, treasurer of the Atlanta council; H. E. Spanier, scoutmaster troop 11, and E. R. Lowry, scoutmaster troop 28.

Things the Censor won't let you see in the Movies

A kiss—for more than five seconds—

A young wife sewing on baby clothes—

Girls in one-piece bathing suits—

Some of these things the censor will let you see in one state but not in another. In one, for instance, they forbade Jack London's "John Barleycorn" on the grounds that it encouraged intemperance, although everywhere else it was shown as an argument in favor of prohibition.

No one knows more about the actual workings of the censorship than Jesse L. Lasky, Vice-president of the Famous Players—Lasky Corporation. Read what he has to say about it in

"When dreams are danger signals"

by H. Addington Bruce

Suppose you dreamed again and again that a savage cat was clawing at your throat, and then, quite by accident, your doctor discovered that you had a throat tumor—would you call it a coincidence?

Or if you had a vivid dream that you had been cut in two, and two days later you had been stricken with paralysis of one side—would you say it was merely chance?

Science has now made the startling discovery that it is a perfectly sound instinct that makes the human race believe that dreams are warnings.

In the second of his series of startlingly revealing articles on dreams, H. Addington Bruce tells us how we can recognize and profit by these danger signals.

Blackheads Go Quick By THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of calomel powder from your drugist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone.
The calomel powder and the hot water have just dissolved them.
Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of calomel powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.
You can get calomel powder at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.—(adv.)
